

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF CREDIT UNION SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS

Membership Benefits

Our Core Purpose:

To be the leader of innovation, collaboration and advocacy for CUSOs and the credit union industry.

Cooperative Principle #6: Cooperation Among Cooperatives

Cooperatives serve their members most effectively and strengthen the cooperative moment by working together though local, regional, national and international structures.

By becoming a member of NACUSO you show your commitment to the 6th cooperative principle.

Platinum and Gold Partners help us grow the industry, position your organization to be at the forefront of thought leaders in credit union collaboration and ensure that CUSOs are a top of mind solution for services.

All NACUSO members provide the resources necessary for us to be a strong regulatory advocate, and through contributions to NACUSO's Advocacy Fund, we gather resources to enable us to help protect collaborative solutions for credit unions. We take an active role in the Legislative and Regulatory Advocacy issues that affect CUSOs and credit unions collaborative efforts, so we can help maintain an environment that is supportive of collaboration, including:

- Established a Legislative & Regulatory Advocacy Committee comprised primarily of Board Members who help set priorities for NACUSO Advocacy
- Developing a pro-active legislative advocacy agenda as well as a pro-active regulatory advocacy agenda
- Working closely with other CU trade associations to help ensure NACUSO's legislative & regulatory priorities are fully understood and supported by those associations

Our annual Networking Conference has been called one of the greatest networking events in the credit union system, and 86% of past attendees plan to return and recommend NACUSO's annual Networking Conference to colleagues. We are collaborative by our very nature, and we bring like-minded leaders together in a fun, informative and productive environment.

In 2012 we debuted the Next Big Idea Competition. Loosely patterned after ABC's Shark Tank TV show, we invite organizations to apply to present their credit union or CUSO idea on stage in front of a panel of judges. In 2016 we added two facilitated Partner Connection Sessions to the agenda. If you've ever thought about investing in, starting or just participating in a CUSO, you'll want to attend these one-of-a-kind matchmaking sessions.

For a limited time only, credit unions, CUSOs and service providers can join NACUSO for half off the first year's annual membership (savings of $497-$747). We look forward to welcoming you as a member of NACUSO!

Member Benefits (Platinum, Gold, Primary and Contributory)

CUSO Focused Legislative & Regulatory Advocacy

NACUSO has become the leading CUSO Regulatory Advocate, addressing issues that affect both credit unions and CUSOs such as the MBL Cap, NCUA's CUSO Regulations, NCUA's Risk Based Capital regulations, etc. NACUSO is focused on ensuring that the credit union movement will be able to utilize and benefit from CUSOs for years to come, as unencumbered as possible. Guy Messick, an attorney with Messick, Lauer & Smith in Media, PA., has been the General Counsel to NACUSO since 1987. Guy and his partners have provided strategic planning and legal consultation services to hundreds of credit unions and CUSOs nationwide.

Educational Conferences & Webinars

NACUSO holds first class educational conferences each year and conducts regional workshops on emerging issues as required. We also provide comprehensive coverage of events online and maintain a complete text and graphic (html) archive of past conference coverage. NACUSO members receive discounted registration fees. NACUSO also presents timely and helpful Webinars which are free to members.

Reference Resources

NACUSO can refer you to a qualified source for information, saving you many hours of research when looking for information on Best Practices, Benchmarking, Industry Standards and other tools. Speaker materials and PowerPoint presentations are always available to members. That way, ideas, concepts, strategies and innovative products offered by industry leaders, experts and guests at NACUSO conferences are always at hand.

NCUA Examination Guidelines

NACUSO members receive a NCUA Examiner's Checklist to assist in self-examination of their CUSO. NACUSO also maintains a library of legal opinions and comments issued by the NCUA and other regulatory agencies.

Marketing Support

Throughout the year we will promote your CUSO with opportunities to be a guest blogger or host a webinar. We'll publish any white papers, infographics, or case studies that help to educate and tell your story and publish your press releases and share in social media.

Limited Legal Counsel

NACUSO provides valuable assistance by answering commonly asked legal questions. This limited counsel on CUSO issues may save your organization time and money.

Information/eNEWS

NACUSO's Regulatory Updates are sent directly to members' email addresses, saving the time and trouble of searching for important information in multiple locations.

Annual Recognition Awards

NACUSO recognizes an outstanding CUSO and credit union each year with its CUSO of the year and Credit Union Collaboration and Innovation Awards. A panel of industry experts and peers considers nominees for these prestigious awards.

CUSO Analyzer

As the only trade association serving CUSOs, and their collaborative credit union owners, we understand the value of connecting like-minded people in the spirit of innovation and collaboration. That's why we partnered with Callahan and Associates to build the CUSO Analyzer database, which provides exclusive access to NACUSO members. You'll find it easy to navigate and a powerful directory for finding potential partners in the many industries CUSOs cover.
